SIGNS OF LIFE

books & art -
truth & beauty

A visual journal combines various aspects of mixed-media, imagery and written word to personally express oneself in a book format. This fun and light-spirited class will initiate you into looking inward for visual, self-expression and is for anyone interested in visual journaling, from beginners to experienced artists. Learn how to combine mixed-media and imagery with text for your own unique visual expression. Mixed-media techniques and journaling exercises will be covered. No experience necessary. For more information, visit Traci's website at <https://www.TraciBunkers.com>

Traci Bunkers is a working artist and author. Her first book, Print & Stamp Lab, is on alternative printmaking techniques and tool development. Her second book, The Art Journal Workshop, is an in-depth and hands-on approach to visual journaling. And her third book, Print It!, is a kid's alternative printing project book. Her visual journal pages and artwork have also been featured in many books and magazines.
